

Launch Into Your Future

Registered Apprenticeships

Student Learning Deck

Three ideas to use now

- Know this

- Registered Apprenticeship is an employment pathway, not only a training course.
- The employer or sponsor controls openings, selection, wages, schedules, and application steps.
- Sponsor listings show registered programs but do not prove that a current job opening exists.

What to know. What to verify.

Start here

- Registered Apprenticeship combines paid employment, structured on-the-job learning, and related instruction; openings and terms must be verified with the employer or sponsor.
- Registered Apprenticeship is an employment pathway, not only a training course.

Verify before acting

- Do not promise an opening, selection, wage, schedule, tuition benefit, or college credit.
- Confirm every opportunity and term with the employer or sponsor before the student acts.

Build your action plan

- Next moves
- Choose the occupation
- Understand the registered model
- Search current openings
- Verify employer terms

Use it now

Exit ticket

Write the next action you will take about Registered Apprenticeships. Name the official person or office that can verify your information, and choose a follow-up date.

