

CAMPAIGN KIT 10 | COLLEGE

College Search Tools

Newsletter Language

Launch Into Your Future: College Search Tools

College search tools can help build a list, but students should verify programs, admission, cost, deadlines, and support on each institution's official website.

Students do not need every answer before they begin. For college search tools, the useful first move is to identify the information owner, review a current official source, and record the next action.

Try this now

1. Name the student's five most important search criteria.
2. Use College Scorecard or College Navigator to identify possible institutions.
3. Open each institution's website to verify the exact program and application route.

Families can support the process by asking what has been verified, what still needs an answer, and when the student will follow up. Requirements and opportunities can change, so use the official sources below and the school's counseling or student services team.

CALL TO ACTION Choose one action today. Write down who owns the answer and the date you will check back.

Sources and verification

Use the linked official sources to confirm current details before release or student use.

1. Collegescorecard.Ed: Official Resource | 2. National Center for Education Statistics: Official Resource | 3. Delawarestudentsuccess: Official Resource